VEGAN RASPBERRY WHITE CHOCOLATE BLONDIES

Blondies

- 1 1/2 cups cooked organic white beans
- 1/2 tsp baking powder
- 1/2 tsp baking soda
- 1/4 tsp salt
- 1/2 cup organic maple syrup
- 2 tsp organic vanilla
- 1/2 cup + 2 Tbsp organic rolled oats
- 1/4 cup organic coconut oil
- 1/2 cup Vegan White Baking Chips
- 1/4 cup fresh or frozen organic raspberries

White Chocolate Topping

- 1/4 cup Vegan White Baking Chips
- 1 tsp organic coconut oil
- A handful of fresh mint leaves
- A handful of fresh raspberries

Preheat oven to 350 F. In a blender, combine all the ingredients - except for the vegan white baking chips - until the batter is mostly smooth. Stir in vegan white baking chips. Pour the batter into a non-stick muffin pan and bake for 20-25 minutes. (Be careful not to undercook the blondies as the center will remain gooey). Allow the blondies to cool and firm up. Once cooled, add 1/4 cup of white baking chips plus 1 tsp coconut oil to a bowl and microwave for 20 seconds. Stir, then microwave for 10 more seconds. Be careful not to overcook, as white chocolate burns easily. Drizzle white chocolate over each blondie using a spoon. Top with fresh raspberries and garnish with fresh mint.

Ghee is typically prepared by simmering butter, which is churned from cream, skimming liquid fat while discarding any impurities from the surface, then pouring and retaining the solid residue that has settled to the bottom. The texture, colour, and taste of ghee depend on the quality of the butter, the milk source used in the process, and almost entirely of
