You can feel good about where your family's dairy comes from when purchasing Donia Farms products. The Van Keulen family owns Donia Farms and they have been farming together with care in B.C. since 1955. That's three generations of commitment! You can feel good knowing that every drop of milk in their products comes from their own carefully raised cows, so you know the milk is from cows whose well-being is a top priority, just like family.
