Kitchen Notes from Will White

Easter ham is wonderfully versatile when it comes to accompanying sauces. A classic honey-mustard glaze — warm, tangy, and slightly sweet — is perhaps the most beloved pairing, complementing the salty, smoky flavor of the ham beautifully. For something more elegant, a Cumberland sauce made with red currant jelly, port, and orange zest brings a bright, jewel-toned sophistication to the table. Those who enjoy a little heat might opt for a spicy mango chutney or a horseradish cream sauce, while a simple pineapple-brown sugar sauce leans into the ham's natural sweetness with a tropical twist. Whatever your family's taste, a well-chosen sauce can elevate a good Easter ham into a truly memorable centerpiece.
