Live Life Well®

Loblaw has made several changes to its packaging to become more environmentally conscious, focusing on reducing plastic waste and improving recyclability. Loblaw has taken proactive steps to tackle plastic waste by communicating the global "Golden Design Rules" to control brand and packaging vendors and outlining our new criteria for packaging standards. By the end of 2025, Loblaw successfully reached a percentage for recyclable or reusable control brand and store-supplied plastic packaging of 98%. Loblaw has also innovated with new materials, such as switching our whole bean coffee packaging to mostly paper-based containers made from renewable fibres, which lowers carbon impact and increases recyclability.
